Miners Tell Under Which They Are Forced to Work

Union Now Is Distributing $39,000 a Week for Support of Strikers

FRANKLIN, Mich., Feb. 10.—Conditions in the copper mines were described today by four witnesses for the planning union men before the house investigating subcommittee. All except one, Sidney Thomas, previously told their stories at the hearings before Governor Ferris.

Thomas, who is president of the American local of the Western Federation of Miners, related how, on one occasion, he was compelled to go forth from his home in winter, his clothes wet, to get a timber for his house.

"I think that's an outrage," exclaimed Representative Casey. "Is there no state law to protect the miners from such inhuman conditions?"

August W. Kerr, of counsel for the Western Federation, to whom the question was directed, replied that there was no such law.

Captain Cheats Miner.

And Burg, a miner, told the committee that a mine captain in the South Fork mine had cheated him out of $25 by changing the measurements of the work he had taken out because he did not like him.

"You have no way to rectify these things," he asked.

Mr. Casey replied that the mine captain was a stockholder in a mine controlled by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

Charles E. Hietala, district secretary of the federation, told the investigators that he had been discharged from the mine in 1912 because he was a member of the federation. He said he received $80 a month working as a miner on a day wage.

O. N. Hilton, senior counsel for the federation, read into the record several letters and telegrams exchanged between the officers here and in Denver for the purpose of showing, as he said, that President Moyer and Vice President Mahoney were not responsible for the strike being called.

Counsel for the mining companies tried to know how many members of the federation had in the copper country the day before the strike began. He gave the number of 8,900 and stated that 99 per cent of them were being underground. A E. Peterson, counsel for the companies, then asked the witness to furnish the committee with the number of men who were receiving strike benefits now.

ROOSEVELT TUNNEL MAY BE EXTENDED

Plans to Be Driven Back Into Mountain if Present Plans Work Out

Feasibility of extending the tunnel to the Roosevelt deep drainage system, only feet further into the mountain in the Cripple Creek section, has been discussed today by the mining companies and the union. The union men, who are opposed to the extension, said that the tunnel would be a great benefit to the miners, but that it would be a great loss to the companies. The companies, on the other hand, said that the tunnel would be a great loss to the miners, but that it would be a great benefit to the companies.

FIREMEN TO INSPECT ALL HOUSES IN TOWN

Commissioner Johnson Orders Personal Examination Beginning Today

In line with plans adopted by many cities of the country, Colorado Springs is to undergo a thorough inspection by the fire department. The inspection will be carried on annually and will include every house in the city. Uniformed firemen will start today making a house-to-house canvass in search of faulty chimneys and furnace pipes, collected rubbish, explosives or other causes that may result in fires.

The plan is one worked out by Commissioner of Public Safety D. G. Johnson, and has been under consideration for several weeks. Fire Warden Fred Roth makes daily examinations of the premises of buildings in the business district, but he is unable to keep close watch over all residences. It is thought that by making a complete inspection of every house in the city each year the work of the fire warden will be lightened and made more efficient.

The annual inspection plan has been adopted in almost every large city in America," said Commissioner Johnson, yesterday. "It has been found that the fire loss is made much smaller and the troubles of the fire department greatly lessened."

Colorado Springs has been divided into districts, and each fire station has a certain amount of inspection to do. Firemen in uniform will be sent out each day and each man will have his turn at the work. The plan has been favored by the members of the department, as it offers a variation from the usual routine of their work.

Missouri Supreme Court Refuses to Explain Its Decree

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 10.—The Missouri supreme court today refused to grant a rehearing of its earlier decree against certain lumber companies charged with violating the state antitrust laws, or to modify its judgment under which 11 companies were ordered unconditionally to leave the state.

In effect of the decision of the court, it is understood, for that the companies were ordered to leave the state, the companies were ordered to leave the state.

DEMOCRATS ABOUT READY TO CHANGE FRONT ON TOLLS?

President's Views on Subject Carry Great Weight With Party Leaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Wilson's desire that congress repeal the provision of the Panama canal act, exempting American coastwise shipping from toll charges, continued as an absorbing subject of interest in congress today. Considerable sentiment developed for a Democratic conference on the subject in the house as well as in the senate.

Majority members of the interoceanic canal committee in the senate who argued and voted for the exempting provision have taken up for serious consideration the proposal to repeal the national policy. Those who let it be known today that their minds were open on the subject included Senators Chilton of West Virginia and Simmons of North Carolina.

Judgment Infallible.

There is no room for suspicion that the president has any motive other than a true construction of the treaty and the best interests of the country," Senator Chilton said. His judgment has been well high infallible. His appeal to stop look and listen. I confess challenges my deepest interest. I do know that it is right to do right and that it works necessarily at the risk of his health. It is right, all the time. No man is so wise as to except himself from taking the second and third hand when Mr. Wilson after investigation, support, and assent, is in the situation.

Senator Simmons, though an earnest advocate of toll exemptions for American ships when the canal act was passed, declared himself open to argument on the proposal to reverse the policy.

The fact that the platform of the party adopted toll exemption, said Senator Simmons, should not deter us from changing our action if the party and congress have made a mistake."

CARNEGIE GIVES $2,000,000 TO CAUSE OF PEACE

FUND PLACED IN HANDS OF U. S. CHURCHES

Income Only Will Be Used After Universal Peace, Then Relieve Poor

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Andrew Carnegie today gave $2,000,000 to be used through the churches for the promotion of international peace. The income of the fund about $100,000 a year will be expended by a board of 26 trustees, representing all the leading denominations in the United States.

This gift is in addition to the $10,000,000 foundation established by Mr. Carnegie December 4, 1910, "to hasten the abolition of international war." The announcement was made at the close of a luncheon at Mr. Carnegie's home attended by the trustees of the new foundation. The trustees organized "the church peace union" which will be incorporated under the laws of New York state.

The income of the fund will be used to organize the moral power of the churches on critical international questions, to circulate peace literature among the clergy and to bring about the annual observance of a "peace Sunday." When the leading nations abolish war, and the fund has fulfilled its purposes, the trustees may devote the income to other philanthropic uses.

In an address to the trustees, Mr. Carnegie said:

"Certainly the strongest appeal that can be made is to members of the religious bodies to which I hereby appeal, hoping that you feel it to be not only your duty, but your pleasure, to undertake the administration of $2,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds, the income to be so used as in your judgment will most successfully appeal to the people for peace through arbitration of international disputes; that, as man in civilized lands is compelled by law to submit personal disputes to courts of law, so nations shall appeal to the court at The Hague, or to such tribunals as may be mutually agreed on and bow to the verdict rendered, thus insuring the reign of national peace through international law."

To the Religious Power.

After the abolition of international war, the fund will be used to relieve the poor, and that other than expected, probably by the Teutonic nations Germany, Britain and the United States—first deciding to act in union, other powers joining later the trustees will divert the revenues of this fund to relieve the deserving poor and afflicted in their distress especially those who have struggled long and earnestly against misfortune and have not themselves to blame for their poverty.

"Members of the various churches will naturally know such members well, and can therefore be better judges, but this does not deter them from going beyond membership when thought necessary or desirable. As a general rule, it is best to help those who help themselves, but there are unfortunate from whom this cannot be expected."

"Afterward, it abolished by the leading nations the trustees, by a vote of two-thirds, may decide that a better use for the fund than those named before have been found and are free according to their own judgment to devote the income to the best advantage for the good of their fellow men."

NEW ENGLAND IS SHAKEN BY QUAKE

tremors LAST FROM 15 TO 30 SECONDS

One Death Due to Movement and Thousands Feel Distinct Shock

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—An earthquake lasting from 15 to 30 seconds and disturbing particularly what are geologically known as the Devonian and Silurian sections of the northeastern part of the United States occurred shortly after 1:30 o'clock today. It was especially severe in the central and northern parts of New York state. Virtually all of New York state including this city, felt the shock, and New England generally, lower eastern Canada and parts of New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania were shaken.

Tremors were recorded as far south as Washington and as far west as St. Louis.

At Albany, N. Y., the shock was severe enough to shake pictures from the walls of the capitol, while at Binghamton a laborer was killed by the caving in of a trench in which he was working. At Fort Plain, the heavy doors of a bank vault shook under the influence of the quake and from other parts of the state the falling of chimneys, swaying of houses and destruction of fragile objects was reported.

In New York city, the preliminary tremor was felt at 1:35. At 1:35:45 the shock had reached its maximum.

ROAD ENTHUSIASTS IN SESSION TODAY

Pikes Peak Route Boosters Here to Attend Annual Convention

Something definite in the way of plans for the federation of routes through several states, including the Pikes Peak route through Colorado, is expected to develop at the annual meeting of the Lincoln Highway association of Colorado, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms today.

The executive committee of the association will meet at 10 o'clock, and the regular meeting will open at 11 o'clock. Election of officers for the year will also be held today. President Austen Gavin will preside, and delegates are expected from 12 counties.

Next to the consideration of the proposed federation of routes for the establishment of an ocean-to-ocean highway, the consideration of the "Across Colorado in 24 Hours" auto race is most important. This race has been proposed with a view toward advertising the Pikes Peak route and the association will probably adopt resolutions favoring the carrying out of the plan this summer. The question of admitting Rio Blanco county to the association will also be taken up today, and will likely receive favorable consideration.

Many Delegates Named.

The following delegates have been appointed by Mayor McKesson to represent this city at the meeting: A. W. Markshoffel, G. W. Blake, A. J. Lawton, C. F. Aldrich, E. J. Ulrich, F. M. Taylor, A. R. Allen, A. M. Wheeler, A. L. Mowry and Donald Kennedy.

The El Paso Good Roads association has named the following from this city to be present: R. W. Chisholm, W. D. Hemming, C. B. Farrin, C. G. Strang, F. L. Sherwin, H. H. Stevens, O. P. Snider, L. C. Perkins, E. C. Van Diest and J. Schueler.

The board of county commissioners has named the following delegates: A. W. Markshoffel, G. W. Blake, G. H. Paul, B. F. Crow, L. H. Gayer, E. A. Besseler, M. Farrell, L. K. Owen, F. Vollmer, J. A. Hank, Arthur Cornforth, G. S. Euston, G. W. Riddick, E. E. Bruce, Martin Drake, Lem Gannison, D. L. Shultz, Eugene Higby, Dr. McConnell, Burke Potter and J. W. Dickinson.

The Colorado Springs Automobile club has appointed R. O. Giddings, L. G. Carpenter, G. W. Blake, G. E. Hemmings, F. L. Sherwin, C. B. Farrin, W. D. Hemming, C. B. Farrin, C. G. Strang, F. L. Sherwin, H. H. Stevens, O. P. Snider, L. C. Perkins, E. C. Van Diest and J. Schueler.

BUSINESS MEN TO EXPRESS VIEWS ON TRUST LEGISLATION

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Meets in Washington This Week

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Direct expression of the views of the business world on the administration's anti-trust legislation program, now being worked out by congressional committees, is expected to come from the representatives of nearly 200,000 business men who gather here tomorrow to attend the second annual session of the chamber of commerce of the United States. This organization is made up of nearly 100 local chambers in all parts of the country. All day Thursday has been set aside for debate on trust legislation. The specific subjects to be considered are:

- Concentration of industries
- Functions of interstate trade commission
- Industrial efficiency of trusts
- Abolishment of holding companies
- Light and privileges of private parties

Speakers on Trust Program.

The national council of the chamber put the finishing touches to the program today and announced the following speakers on trust legislation:

Secretary Redfield Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; Victor Morawetz of New York; Frederick P. Fish, former president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company; Henry R. Towne, manufacturer New York; Prof. R. H. Siegel, Columbia university; Guy E. Tripp, chairman of the board of directors, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company; and Louis D. Brandeis of Boston.

The convention will end Friday afternoon with the election of officers.

It was announced that plans for the consolidation of the American Association of Commercial Executives and the Central Association of Commercial Secretaries had been effected, the amalgamated body to be known as the American Association of Commercial Secretaries.

HOME RULE IS BIG QUESTION IN ENGLAND

End of 30-Year Struggle Now Believed to Be in Sight

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

Civil War May Result if Ireland Fails to Get Self-Government

LONDON, Feb. 10.—King George with the customary state ceremonial today opened the 10th session of parliament which, according to all reasonable probability, will see the victorious conclusion of the 30-year struggle of the Liberal party to give self-government to Ireland.

The home rule bill, which is to be presented in the house of commons for the third time, will, if carried, receive the royal assent, with or without the consent of the house of lords.

Whether the bill will pass as it stands or whether it will be amended to meet the susceptibilities of Ulster, will depend upon the nature of the concessions which the prime minister announced he would make in behalf of the government at the proper time.

King Dines Settlement.

The king's speech, in a state passage, expressed the earnest desire of his majesty to attain a settlement by consent, and this desire was fervently echoed by Speaker Asquith in the house of commons and Viscount Morley in the house of lords in their opening speeches.

The scene in the house of lords was brilliant in the extreme, and in the commons debate. The appearance of the assembly gave no indication of the passions surging in the opposing sides or that the sessions so quietly commenced might lead to events little short of civil war.

Despite the conciliatory tone of both Premier Asquith and Lord Morley, small hope was felt in the lobbies of parliament tonight that the settlement of the home rule question would be attained.

Battle Rages About Ulster.

The minister's attitude clearly shows that the government will neither consent to an appeal to the country nor (Continued on Page Three)

CITY FILES SUIT AGAINST COUNTY, DEMANDING $1,120

Action Brought in District Court to Collect Part of Assessments for Street Paving

Suit to collect a part of a special assessment of more than $5,000 for the paving of Teton and Chuchas streets part of the city house, and for the construction of a part of the storm sewer which was laid prior to paving work, was filed in the district court yesterday by Assistant City Attorney J. L. Bennett, in behalf of the city against the county commissioners of El Paso county.

The plaintiff asks for $1,120.08, which is claimed, is the amount of the first payment on the assessment. Interest on the remainder of the amount is also asked. The assessment for the paving of the streets is $4,057 and the amount for the building of the storm sewer is $1,022.60.

GOOD ROADS BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Provides for Distribution of $25,000,000 Among States for Road Building

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Shafroth bill under which the government would distribute $25,000,000 for good roads among the states, and which was passed by the house today by a vote of 421 to 42, is now awaiting action by the senate.

Its passage followed several days of debate, during which most of the hundred and more speakers advocated the project in the interest of the farmers while a minority attacked the project as a dangerous opening wedge for heavy future inroads on the treasury.

Democratic Leader Underwood, Republican Leader Mann and Representative Hinesbaugh of Illinois the ranking progressive in the city all voted for the measure. Representative Mann said that the cities could well afford from their wealth, to contribute taxes to aid the country in construction of roads and other improvements.

Many of those who voted against the bill explained that their opposition was not to federal aid in construction of highways, but to the method proposed in the pending measure.

TRAGIC SIDE OF LABOR WAR TOLD BY LAWSON; DESCRIBES WORK OF "DEATH SPECIAL"

Miners, Operators and the Public Suffer Alike From Coal Strikes, He Says; Recounts History of Industrial Strife in Southern Colo.

DENVER, Feb. 10.—The dramatic story of the Colorado coal strike, from the lips of one of the most conspicuous leaders of the miners, was unfolded late today before the congressional investigating committee, when, near the very end of the session, after several hours of preliminary skirmishing, the strikers unlimbered their heaviest artillery. John R. Lawson took the stand. Then, for an hour, committeemen, attorneys and spectators followed with almost breathless interest the testimony of the Colorado member of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America.

"We do not believe in strikes unless they are absolutely unavoidable. They injure not only the strikers and their wives and children; not only the coal operators, but the public."

Thus Lawson announced what he declared to be the policy of the United Mine Workers in labor disputes. And he recounted the miners' version of the 10-year controversy in Colorado. As he talked, his rich, distinct voice only now and then trembling with sudden passion, attorneys forgot to make objections, the chairman forgot that the adjournment hour had passed, and the spectators crowded about the platform to listen. Jesse F. Walborn, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, touched shoulders with Adolph Germer, Socialist and labor leader, as both stood before the high reading desk, busily taking notes.

Tragic Recital of Labor War.

It was a tragic recital which the labor leader poured out, a recital of blood and hate and misery. He told of battles in which both sides shot to kill; of a state of warfare in which strikers and militiamen braved blades in cheering camps.

The labor leader told the committee that he began working in coal mines when a child of 8 years. He said that the methods by which, as he alleged, the United Mine Workers were "run" were then entered upon the history of the coal mining industry in Colorado, from the time of the strike of 1905, which was lost by the miners.

"In that strike," he declared, "the operators brought in gunmen—thugs who had been guilty of almost every crime on the calendar, to intimidate the miners. They were successful. Some of the strikers were frightened into going back to the mines. The others were scattered to the four winds. Many were deported."

Advent of Strikebreakers.

"To fill the place of the strikers the companies brought in strikebreakers. But soon these strikebreakers discovered that they had been put into mines where conditions were unendurable. Their comfort, their very lives, were not taken into account. Thus it came about that in course of time these very men wanted to join the union, to strike for their rights."

"We took them into the union but we advised them not to strike. We realized that they could not win with us."

Lawson then told of a number of cases in which, he said, the union had prevented strikes. In the meantime, however, the men began to join the order.

"But an organizer took his life. He was killed by a 'death special' to the camps," he explained. "Some 200 miners have been killed in southern Colorado."

Trial by "Hand-Picked" Juries.

"Were any of the murderers tried?" interrupted Representative Byrne.

"Yes, they were tried by 'hand-picked' juries," flashed back Lawson. "The operators and the sheriffs picked the juries. Look here, I've seen an English-speaking man tried for murder, and on the jury were 11 Mexicans who could not speak English."

SHAFROTH OPPOSES 'RAILROADING' BILL THROUGH CONGRESS

Urges Delay in Voting to Withdraw Colorado Radium Lands

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Vigorous objection to any attempt to "railroad" through committee the pending bill for regulation of radium mining, was made by Senator Shafroth of Colorado today when the senate mines committee took up a bill virtually the same as that drafted by the house committee.

"It is perfectly obvious," said Chairman Walsh, that there is a race on for these radium claims. Congress is to do anything it should do now."

Senator Shafroth insisted that Thomas F. V. Curran of Colorado, who desired to be heard, be given time to get to Washington. Hearings will be resumed Friday.

Joseph Flannery, president of a Pittsburg radium manufacturing concern, and O. Barlow Willmarth, head of a Colorado company, objected to the bill today, declaring it would stop prospecting of the radium fields in Colorado and Utah.

Willmarth and Flannery fought and defeated before the house. Secretary Lane's first proposal to withdraw from entry all radium lands. Their statements today were held rigidly to matter not presented before the house committee.

Shafroth Counsels Delay.

"I do not wish to delay the bill," said Senator Shafroth. "But I do wish to have the Colorado bill entitled to a full hearing. I have a wish to talk this bill to death on the floor, but if I cannot do it through the committee, I will be sorry."

If my wish prevails before this committee, Senator Walsh said, he will put this bill through to a report to the other favorable of adversely.

The committee will then report the bill to the senate. The bill will then be taken up by the senate. The bill will then be taken up by the senate.

Under the second section of the bill, a crime punishable by not more than three years imprisonment and not more than $5,000 fine for any person to state falsely that he has influence or has the right to influence a member of congress or a member of the United States senate or a member of the United States house of representatives.

The third would make it a crime, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 10 years and by a fine of not more than $10,000 for any person to bring to bear the influence designated in the second paragraph.

CUMMINS ANTILOBBY BILL PASSES SENATE

Drastic Measure Designed to Prevent Influencing Legislation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Senator Cummins' bill designed to prevent the use of the mails disapproved by the senate today by a vote of 74 to 16. The bill would provide for the punishment of any person who, by the use of the mails, attempts to influence a member of congress or a member of the United States senate or a member of the United States house of representatives.

The first section of the bill would make it a crime punishable by not more than five years imprisonment and by a fine of not more than $10,000 for any person to state falsely that he has influence or has the right to influence a member of congress or a member of the United States senate or a member of the United States house of representatives.

The second section of the bill would make it a crime punishable by not more than three years imprisonment and by a fine of not more than $5,000 for any person to state falsely that he has influence or has the right to influence a member of congress or a member of the United States senate or a member of the United States house of representatives.

The third would make it a crime, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 10 years and by a fine of not more than $10,000 for any person to bring to bear the influence designated in the second paragraph.

Cross-State and Canada, Kansas City and Gulf highways, is stopping at the Adams, and has come to Colorado Springs especially to attend the sessions today. Mr. Adams is here primarily in the interest of the plan whereby his route will federate with the Rock Island highway through Kansas and the Pike's Peak route through Colorado to form a section of an ocean-to-ocean highway.

"Such a route would be the straightest road across the country," said Mr. Adams last night. "There is no question that the Pike's Peak route is the best road through Colorado, and we figure that it and our road will mutually benefit each other. We are anxious to see a federation accomplished soon."

The Hannibal and St. Joe route has been in operation for two years, and is well established. Good roads are not mere affairs of the road in our country, and I know that they are not. It is a way of life. Your convict labor system has put it in a false light over the east, and we are going to put convicts to work on our road this spring if possible.

"Our road is 206 miles long and, with the simplicity of 26 miles, is all dirt road. We utilized the roads between county seats as much as possible in laying out the route, as these roads are subsidized for $15 a mile yearly by the state. We maintain our route through an executive committee in each county, and these committees are composed of one man from each township through which the route runs.

All Profit by Good Roads.

"There is no question about good roads paying the community, and the automobilist is not the only one who profits by well-kept highways. The farmers and cattlemen and, in fact, all producers for the market, find good roads at time savers when it comes to reaching shipping points with their produce."

"The good roads movement has grown into great popularity in Missouri. I am in the wholesale business myself, and would never have consented to become active in the organization of a cross-state highway except for the fact that public pressure was so great that I could not refuse the work. Last fall we had a day set aside for road work through a proclamation by the governor, and that gentleman himself got out and actually threw dirt on the day named.

"There are now bills before congress for federal aid in road maintenance, and if the enthusiasm for improved highways continues to increase among the people of the country, there is no

Wanted: Just Relatives of Kaiser for Spending

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—The excessive spending of the automobiles in which members of the imperial family are driven in Berlin and its suburbs, and the great danger to pedestrians caused thereby, were the subject of complaint during a debate on traffic accidents which was held in the Prussian diet today.

A demand was made that the police enforce the city speed regulations without discrimination in favor of the emperor's sons, who, it was said, were frequent offenders. The daughters-in-law of the emperor also were occasionally involved in breaches of the regulations, it was said.

One of the deputies said it was common in a year or two ago that the emperor had threatened to deprive of his automobile the next offender among the members of the imperial family.

BAND OF COUNTERFEITERS IS WORKING IN MEXICO

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Secret service agents here expressed the opinion today that a band of counterfeiters of American currency were busy across the Mexican border in Lower California. Bogus gold certificates for $10, picked up by government officials as far east as Omaha, have been traced to a counterfeiters' "mill" south of the border, they said.

It was said that the counterfeiters doubt that national aid will eventually come.

Intensity, and at 1:37.30 the movement subsided altogether, making the total duration of the quake two and one-quarter minutes, as given by the seismograph.

The period in which the shock was perceptible by man was from 10 to 30 seconds, and started in a majority of cases about 1:35.

So far as known the movement was from northeast to southwest, with the boundary lines of the territory affected converging to a point in the Atlantic.

The initial movement of the quake occurred at 1:35 near the upper Atlantic seaboard about 1:35 and extended to places in the northern part of New York state about three minutes later.

Geological Manifestations.

Points in central Massachusetts, among them Springfield and Worcester, report the disturbance to have occurred shortly before the time given by the seismograph of the Museum of Natural History of New York. At Philadelphia the shock was felt at 1:33, and Georgetown university at Washington, D. C., reports that its seismograph marked the first tremor at 1:34 this morning, recording the actual shock at 1:34. The seismograph of the Harvard Geological observatory, Cambridge, Mass., recorded the first tremor at 1:33:25 and marked total subsidence of the disturbance at 1:40:34, overlapping both in initial movement and end of quake the records taken in New York city.

According to Dr. Edmund O. Hovey, curator of geology of the American Museum of Natural History, the character of the record left by the seismograph in his institution shows that the movement of the quake was not attended by great lateral oscillations. Slight tremors were registered on his instrument yesterday at intervals, and throughout the last 24 hours slight disturbances of the earth crust were recorded by it, their general character indicating that the movement was slight and entirely local.

First in Many Years.

No local seismic disturbances comparable in magnitude with the one recorded today can be recalled by the attaches of the museum. The last earthquake felt in New York took place in the territory of Charleston, S. C., in 1854. In 1854 a general disturbance took place over the greater part of the area affected today.

The only part of Greater New York which felt the shock of the earthquake severely enough to alarm the population was the Heights section of Brooklyn where those who had sensed the shock were under the impression that an explosion had occurred. In many of the office buildings of Manhattan a slight tremor was felt, but the disturbance was not great enough to cause excitement. No accidents due to the quake were reported.

Tells of Strike Disorders.

Lawson then began his recital of the various disorders in the strike zone. He told of a strike at the "advent test colony," in which, he said, no one was hurt. Next he told of the battle at the Forbes test colony, October 11, in which one man was killed and two wounded.

"There had been some shooting in the morning and about noon," he recounted, "but in the afternoon everything was peaceful again. Then a crowd of men suddenly appeared from Trinidad, some mounted on horseback, some on foot. They had a white flag, and a man named 'John' was with them. They came to the test colony. He said: 'Boys, it's a union man. Are you good union men?' 'Yes, we are,' they replied. 'Well, you'd better look out, because they're going to shoot you,' said Kennedy, suddenly walking back about 15 feet and holding the white flag to the ground. The next instant two machine guns opened upon the test colony. One man was killed through the head and another was lying on the ground, and a third was hit in the leg."

Pat Militia to Fight.

"I'd say of your men reply to the first shot," he said.

"I have a son to believe that a few of the 'gals' took refuge in a ditch and fired back," was the reply.

"I don't believe this is the first time," he said, "that there were 50 guards and only 24 men in the test colony, the men were back to Trinidad without a shot being fired."

Lawson's testimony was uncompleted when the chairman, somewhat after the 10 o'clock hour, adjourned the session. The labor leader will resume his stand at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Hickey Tells of Investigation.

W. T. Hickey, secretary of the Colorado State Federation of Labor told of an investigation he had made of the land agency through which James Adams last night testified that he had been induced to come to Colorado. Adams said he understood he was to purchase a ranch near Alamosa. Hickey's testimony was to the effect that he could find no record that the land company owned any land in that vicinity. He turned over the affidavits of Adams and his companions to the United States district attorney, who told him, he said, that he could not find any evidence that the postal laws had been violated.

About this time, he said, a Denver man named Stanley came to my office and said he and some associates held options on some land near Alamosa, and that they had been bringing men from the east to purchase it, furnishing them with work in the meantime. He promised me that he would have these operations stopped."

Witness for Strikers.

Salvatore Valentini, a Sicilian, was called as the next witness for the strikers. He said he came to Colorado from Pittsburgh at the solicitation of a man who was seeking 2,000 men to work in the mines in the Trinidad district. He signed a contract on December 12, he declared, in which he was told, according to his statement, that there was no strike in Colorado.

Union Men Were Efficient

John W. Bell, miner and mining engineer, who, until recently, was superintendent of the Wooten mine, an "independent" concern in Las Animas county, said he found union employees more efficient than those who were not organized.

"While you were employed in southern Colorado, did you learn anything of blacklisting?"

"Yes; it existed to some extent."

"What was your understanding regarding the reason for not employing the men named on the blacklists?"

"Some of them were supposed to be agitators."

"An agitator is a man who is working to organize the union, is he not?"

"Yes."

"When you were superintendent of the Wooten mine, were the men paid for every 2,000 pounds taken out?"

"There was considerable complaint of short weights."

"Was the complaint just or unjust?"

"It seemed to be just."

"Then there was short weighing?"

"Yes."

Questioned Regarding the Causes of the Miners' Strike, the Witness Answered Cautiously, but Finally Said He Believed Recognition of the Union Was the Main Obstacle in Preventing a Settlement.

SEEK PRESIDENT'S VIEWS ON ANTITRUST LEGISLATION

Recalcitrant Republicans Still Refuse to Attend Democratic Committee Meetings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Having deliberated for several weeks on the antitrust legislation program as suggested by President Wilson, members of the senate interstate commerce committee are ready to consult the president with regard to proposed amendments to tentative bills, and a conference has been arranged at the White house for tomorrow.

Republican members of the committee, who have suggested amendments to the interstate trade commission bill, and the measure designed to supplement the Sherman act have been urged to join with the Democrats in this conference. It is the purpose of the administration leaders to keep the question out of a party dispute if possible, and it is said the Republicans are continually being urged to participate in the framing of the bill in committee.

Aside from communicating their own ideas to the president as to tentative bills, the members of the committee desire also to get further suggestions from the executive.

It is still expected to have the bill ready for passage by March 11, if possible.

VALENTINE'S HOUSE

the record-breaking crowds, the supporting features on the program all merit favorable comment as they truly serve a most entertaining purpose and combine in forming a vaudeville program that at popular prices, is an irresistible amusement bargain. The entire change of program, opening tomorrow for two days only, offers another wonderful array of vaudeville features, with two extraordinary headliners, Miss Freda West, "The American Venus," and her company, presenting vaudeville's latest creation, "Electropose," and Maria Tropical, "Tinklers," 30 beautiful cockatoos. Special scenery forms a beautiful background for this feathered aggregation.

REPERTORY CONCERT

When Fritz Kreisler first came to this country as a "boy wonder," it seemed as if he would join the multitude of clever fiddlers who were never so happy as when whistling harmonies in passing studies. With the coming of marriage came a great change in his point of view and today while he retains all the technical facilities that marked him as unusual in his youth, he is one of the great interpreters of the classics. Few play the Beethoven Concerto as he does and speaking of his performance of it in Philadelphia last winter with the Boston Symphony orchestra, Mr. George D. Rogers, the veteran critic of the Inquirer of that city said:

"As Beethoven's Concerto is one of the things for which he has a special love and of which he has made a special study, the splendor of its interpretation last night can be readily understood. Alike in its technical finish, its intellectual dignity and in its emotional fervor it was superb. Better violin playing than this is unimaginable."

Mr. Kreisler will be heard here in Italy next Friday evening on the Musical club course.

"LAVENDER AND OLD LACE"

The story of Lavender and Old Lace is the romance of Carl Winfield and Ruth Thorne, both of the newspaper profession who meet as they are spending their vacation in a quaint little village by the sea. They come to know Miss Ansel, a dainty little woman who loves lavender and old lace and other beautiful things. There is a mystery in her life as how Carl most strongly enters into that mystery some of the most fascinating pages of the tale.

Lavender and Old Lace first appeared 10 years ago and it is today in demand at every public library as their well-thumbed spines attest. It has had 40 printings.

The general expectation that some day this delightful romance would be dramatized has been realized. The stage version has been prepared by David G. Fisk and a capable company is on tour in the city. It will be offered here next Monday. Sarah Padden, the delightful young dramatic star, will appear in the leading role supported by a company of much merit.

"THE GIRL IN THE TAXI"

A striking advertisement that goes the average one better is the advertisement used by "The Girl in the Taxi." It reads: "Guaranteed to grow longer where they never grew before." While the show was running in Paris a certain political man of the gas capital, who always appeared with a chronic growth, was invited to see the comedy. He replied that comedy or laughter did not appeal to him. After hard convincing he agreed to attend the theater that evening. He sat partly through the first act motionless at the end of it he showed signs of a smile. The second act brought a laugh, then

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Unexpected falling off in the world's available supply had a rallying effect today on wheat. Closing prices were strong at an advance of 1/8¢ to 1/4¢ on all other specialties. Total, all showed a gain, corn, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢; oats, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢; and provisions, 1/4¢ to 3/8¢.

Such a huge decrease as 4,377,000 bushels in the world's stock of wheat could not but encourage the bulls, especially as the reduction at the corresponding time a year ago amounted only to 1,146,000 bushels. Moreover, the curtailment last week was relatively small as well—1,426,000 bushels. Rumors of export sales for shipment by way of the gulf added to the stimulating influence on the bull side. The government snow map was also disappointing for the bears—Kansas, southern Illinois and south and central Indiana being unprotected and the covering in Nebraska very light. Despite a good deal of active commission buying, it was not until the last half of the session that the bulls got the upper hand in the wheat pit. During the earlier hours, cable dispatches told of a pause in the European demand and the bears were favored by warmer weather in the domestic winter crop belt.

Corn bulged on account of most receivers arriving that country offerings were light. The market was lower at first because of fine weather for shipping and hauling. It had independent strength, the result of statements that most of the 2,300,000 bushels of Canadian oats at Buffalo have been sold for shipment to Europe.

Firmness in provisions came chiefly from the fact that hog receipts fell far short of the estimate. On the upturn, packers were good sellers.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The market held fast today to the apprehensive level of prices which has prevailed since the last fortnight. Today's main movement was downward and on the decline some of the less active shares broke sharply. In the late session the market improved. The improved tone of the latter dealings was influenced by the United States Steel corporation's monthly figures of unfilled tonnage.

Taken in conjunction with the strong showing made yesterday in the Copper Producers' report and the decrease in idle freight cars disclosed in the last statement, it confirmed the judgment of Wall Street that positive improvements in general business conditions are ahead.

The Amsterdam market for American securities was upset by the recent collapse of Rock Island stocks and collateral bonds, and by the severe drop in mercantile marine issues following the decision of the British courts yesterday against the White Star line in a damage suit growing out of the sinking of the Titanic.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, per value, $3,855,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Chicago Woman's Gown Wins Admiration of Italian Queen

MRS. IRA NELSON MORRIS.
The police of Rome will breathe freer when Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago and Mrs. John Hays Hammond of Washington have left the Sacred city and taken with them their marvelous collections of jewels. The gems first started the Italian capital when the two American women dined all those at the court hall when they appeared wearing jewelry that were estimated to be worth 100,000 francs ($2,000,000). Mrs. Morris' necklace, valued at $500,000, so attracted Queen Eleonora that she asked Mrs. Morris to visit her at the Quirinal, so that she might inspect it more closely.

all travelers, according to a special dispatch received today from Rome, the Italian capital, the Constitutional cabinet. The first escort of 23 Constitutional soldiers accompanied a mule pack train which left Rome yesterday. It was bound for Uva, near which point the Indians have been most active in their bandit operations.

DENVER, Feb. 10.—Guido Ritter, aged 38, was found in a dying condition today at his home here from the effects of a large dose of poison. On the table was a note bearing Ritter's signature as follows:
"This is a clear case of suicide on account of drink. Call Mercy hospital, Dr. J. McKay, and notify the Swiss consul. Good-by to all my friends."
Ritter died shortly after reaching the county hospital.

fornia are meeting here today to formulate some plan whereby they may obtain relief from the conditions that have been imposed by reason of the parcel post. The owners of the mountain stage routes, who have contracted with the government to carry the mails, declare that the additional business thus far beyond the provision in the act for the compensation they receive.

Congressman Baker has been asked by them to introduce a bill for their relief. One instance of where great hardship has been inflicted on a star route carrier is cited by Francis Carr, of Redding, attorney for a large number of the contractors. He says that the only store in a mountain town of more than 1,000 population closed its business since the act went into effect and the mail contractor is using a six-horse team to haul the supplies. This contractor lost additional compensation for any new class of mail ordered carried, but then only in strict proportion to the increase over the original contract quantity, and in no case for over 50 per cent of the original contract, the extra allowance to go into effect with the issuance of an order allowing it," said Mr. Carr. The only increase he has received, according to Mr. Carr, is $22 yearly.

Other instances were related which tended to show that the life of a "star route" carrier is far from being a paying proposition.

According to Carr some of the "star route" contractors have declined to accept the additional allowances granted them by the postoffice department for fear this might constitute a waiver of claims for relief.

Men and Women Are Always Responsible. Evangelist Declares
 The revival services in progress at the Tourist Memorial church continue in interest, as was shown last night by the large audience that heard the sermon by Dr. Parrett. He chose for his text Gal. 6:7, "Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." He said in part:
 We are not to be deceived as to the kingdoms in which we are sowing. Neither deceived as to the seed that we sow. That makes life serious. The divine injunction follows: "We are not to sow to the flesh, for of the flesh we shall reap corruption; but sow to the spirit, and from the spirit we shall reap life eternal."
 The harvest will be from the seed we sow. The philosophy of sowing is understood by each of us. The seed multiplies itself many fold, from five to six hundred fold for a grain of corn, and from three to eight hundred fold for a grain of wheat.
 Tons in Spiritual World.
 While that is true in the natural world, it is also true in the spiritual. "What we sow, we shall also reap." Death has no terror for me, for I know that I am ready. But I will tell you what is of the last grave. It is the responsibility of it over-whelmingly conscious to me. If we all believe in the continuous influence of all printed matter. How solemn, then, the responsibility of all living. Every word spoken or written, every deed, good or evil, lives on. Robert Ingersoll lives today in the hearts of all who accept his teachings. Thomas Paine is not dead; he lives today over again in the lives of all his adherents. Martin Luther lives in the lives of all who believe in and practice his policy. Wherever Methodism is preached, the reflex influence of the life of John Wesley is strangely felt in the life of today. Philip William Otterbein lives over his life and principles today in the 25,000 communicants of the United Brethren in Christ communion.
 Think then tonight of your sowing. The influence you are exerting, the life you are living, and the relation of these to God to ourselves and to those with whom we associate.
 Personal experiences and illustrations were graphically pictured to show what a harvest will follow the wrong sowing of a life time. The story of the rich man and Lazarus from the gospel by St. Luke was impressively told by the evangelist. Influence is the greatest asset of life, he said, and, when exerted rightly, will yield a rich harvest in the lives of men here and hereafter. Influence exerted wrongly over children, friends and business associates will bring a sad harvest of repentance anguish and remorse of soul.
 Mrs. Parrett sang effectively, "Saved by a Hymn." The service closed with an appeal for Christians to measure up to the responsibilities and opportunities before them. There were a number of conversions.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA
 IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.
 Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides, carefully darkening the hair after a few applications it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. Besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Adv.
